

Benefits

If you are disabled
and working age

April 2018

Find out more about the benefits you may be entitled to

If you are unable to work

Statutory Sick Pay

Statutory Sick Pay is paid by your employer if you are too ill to work and have been earning an average of £116 a week. You can be paid £92.05 a week for up to 28 weeks.

Let your employer know that you are too ill to work and they will check if you can be paid Statutory Sick Pay.

Employment and Support Allowance

Employment and Support Allowance provides a basic income to cover living costs if you are unable to work because of illness or disability. There are two types of Employment and Support Allowance:

- contributory – based on your National Insurance contributions. This is called ‘new style’ Employment and Support Allowance in Universal Credit full service areas.
- income-related – if you are on a low income. You must claim jointly with your partner if you have one and have £16,000 or less in savings. In Universal Credit full service areas you may have to claim Universal Credit instead.

You may be able to claim either or both depending on your circumstances.

You will be assessed and if it is accepted that you are unable to work because of illness or disability you will be placed in the support group or work-related activity group. If you are in the work-related activity group you will have to take part in work-focused interviews and other activities.

When you first claim Employment and Support Allowance you will be paid £73.10 per week. After a 13-week assessment period Employment and Support Allowance is paid at two rates:

Support group	£110.75
Work-related activity group	£73.10

You may receive more money if you are claiming income-related Employment and Support Allowance and you have a partner, you are a carer or you are severely disabled.

You can do some work whilst claiming. In most cases, as long as you work less than 16 hours and earn less than £125.50 a week, you remain on the same amount of Employment and Support Allowance.

To start your claim ring 0800 055 6688 (textphone 0800 023 4888).

If you live in a Universal Credit full service area ring 0800 328 5644 (textphone 0800 328 1344).

If you are on a low income

Universal Credit

You can claim Universal Credit if you are working age and on a low income. Universal Credit can be claimed in and out of work. You must have £16,000 or less in savings.

It is paid monthly. The amount paid depends on your income and circumstances. You must claim jointly with your partner if you have one. You may get an extra amount if you are unable to work due to illness or disability. You may also get extra amounts for children, rent and service charges or if you are a carer.

You can claim Universal Credit if you live in a Universal Credit full service area. Craven, Hambleton, Harrogate, Richmondshire, Ryedale and York are full service areas. Scarborough and Selby are due to become full service in May 2018.

You can contact the Universal Credit helpline for information on 0800 328 5644 (textphone 0800 328 1344). Claim online at www.gov.uk

Council Tax Support

Council Tax Support helps pay for your Council Tax if you are on a low income.

It may cover all or some of your Council Tax depending on your income and savings, and your circumstances.

You can claim Council Tax Support at the same time as Universal Credit.

To claim contact your local council.

Other benefits if you are on a low income

Universal Credit is replacing six income-related benefits: Income Support, income-based Jobseeker's Allowance, income-related Employment and Support Allowance, Working Tax Credit, Child Tax Credit and Housing Benefit. These are called legacy benefits.

If you already receive these benefits you may have to claim Universal Credit when a change of circumstances would otherwise involve a claim for another legacy benefit. Universal Credit would replace any of the legacy benefits you were receiving.

The government plan to move everyone onto Universal Credit by 2022.

If you have personal care needs or difficulties with walking

Personal Independence Payment

Personal Independence Payment looks at your ability to manage:

- daily living activities and/or
- planning and following journeys and moving around.

Daily living activities include personal care, preparing food, communication, engaging with other people and making budgeting decisions.

Personal Independence Payment is paid if your ability to manage is limited or severely limited.

It is paid at two rates:

- | | |
|--------------|------------------|
| daily living | £57.30 or £85.60 |
| mobility | £22.65 or £59.75 |

To start your claim ring 0800 917 2222 (textphone 0800 917 7777). You will be sent a self-assessment form and most people will attend a face-to-face assessment with a health professional.

If you are a carer

Carer's Allowance

Carer's Allowance can be paid if you provide 35 hours care a week.

The person you are caring for must be receiving a disability benefit:

- Personal Independence Payment (daily living component)
- Attendance Allowance
- Disability Living Allowance (middle or higher rate care component)
- Constant Attendance Allowance
- Armed Forces Independence Payment

You cannot get Carer's Allowance if you are in full-time education or earning £120 or more a week.

Carer's Allowance is paid at £64.60 per week.

It overlaps with contributory Employment and Support Allowance and some other benefits. This means you may not get paid Carer's Allowance but you may receive increased amounts on other benefits including income-related Employment and Support Allowance, Universal Credit or Housing Benefit.

If the person you care for lives alone, claiming Carer's Allowance may affect their benefits. Seek advice before claiming.

To claim contact the Carer's Allowance Unit on 0800 731 0297 (textphone 0800 731 0317). You can claim online or download a form from www.gov.uk

If you have a work-related injury or illness

Industrial Injuries Scheme

If you became ill or are disabled because of an accident or disease at work you might get Industrial Injuries Disablement Benefit. The weekly amount depends on how much you are affected by the injury or illness.

To claim, contact the Industrial Injuries Disablement Benefit Centre on 0800 121 8379 (textphone 0800 169 0314). You can also download a claim form from www.gov.uk

If you need constant care and attention as a result of your injury or disease you may be able to claim Constant Attendance Allowance.

Armed Forces Compensation Scheme

If you have served or are serving in the armed forces and you have suffered an injury or illness you may be able to apply for compensation. Lump sum payments and on-going weekly payments are available.

To claim contact the Veterans UK Helpline on 0808 191 4218.

Other help

Health costs

Free prescriptions and NHS eyesight tests are available if you have a specified medical condition.

You will be entitled to free prescriptions, eyesight tests, dental charges and other health costs if you are on income-related Employment and Support Allowance or some other income-related benefits, or you get exemption with your tax credit or Universal Credit claim.

You can also claim help under the Low Income Scheme by contacting the Health Costs Advice Line on 0300 330 1343 or www.nhs.uk

Please note, this covers England only.

Welfare Assistance Schemes

Local councils have discretionary schemes which may help you meet essential costs. Support can include household goods direct from a supplier or vouchers for food and fuel costs.

To claim contact your local council or county council.

Council Tax reductions

Your Council Tax bill may be reduced if you are entitled to a discount or you are disabled.

Contact your local council for more information.

More information

Local advice agencies

You can get information and advice from local advice and advocacy agencies such as Citizens Advice or a disability advice centre.

Information is also available from the following:

Disability Rights UK

www.disabilityrightsuk.org

Carers UK

www.carersuk.org

T: 0808 808 7777

Citizens Advice

www.citizensadvice.org.uk

T: 03444 111 444 (England only)

Veterans UK

www.gov.uk

0808 191 4218.

The official government website provides information and access to online claim forms

www.gov.uk

The information in this leaflet is for guidance only and is not an authoritative statement of the law. You may wish to find out more before you decide whether to claim.

Charity number: 1164225

With thanks to

April 2018