

Training Courses

Universal Credit and work 1 online module

To provide an understanding of the effect of work on UC entitlement. The course focuses on earnings assessment if you are employed or self-employed, the impact of changes in employment and working if you have limited capability for work.

This module will cover:

- How earned income is calculated for Universal Credit
- Reporting earnings
- How different payment cycles impact on Universal Credit
- Working if you have limited capability for work

Target Group: Introductory

This course is relevant to anyone who works with claimants who are working or considering starting work. The course is updated to bring in any changes as they occur so works well as a refresher.

By the end of the course you will have:

Confidence to advise clients about the help they can get towards their housing costs through Universal Credit.

Date: Wednesday 26 May, 1.30 – 4.00