Introduction to Universal Credit and Migration 2 online modules

This course provides an overall understanding of Universal Credit including conditions of entitlement, calculation and how best to advise claimants.

Module one we will consider:

- Universal Credit criteria and how to identify who can claim
- Limited capability for work
- Calculation of Universal Credit, looking at the maximum amount, rent and treatment of income
- Conditionality: the Claimant Commitment, sanctions and hardship payments

Module two we will consider:

- Claims, payment and changes of circumstances
- Monthly assessments and their impact
- Common problems
- Migration and transitional protection

Target Group: Introductory

This course is relevant to anyone who works with claimants of working age. The course is updated to bring in any changes as they occur so works well as a refresher.

By the end of the course you will have:

Confidence to advise clients about Universal Credit and how it will affect them. An understanding of the impact of Universal Credit and how your organisation can work to support clients.
